Nonfiction Book Review: Necessary Losses by Judith Viorst ...

Speaking to a college graduation class in 1970, Kurt Vonnegut, Jr. advised them all to get into something universal, like astrology or palmistry: "Everyone has a birthday, and almost everyone has a palm." Viorst is mining such a vein here; for everyone experiences losses in life. Unfortunately, her approach to this profound subject is unremittingly trite. Since her Pollyannaish thesis ...

THE HOUSE PASSAGE of the police reform bill was no more than a small victory, coming in the middle of the COVID-19 pandemic, historic jobs losses, economic dislocation, and more police killings—all of which have taken a fearsome toll across Black America. The summer of frustration, protests, and violence in the streets tells a story quite different from legislative success.
